

I can build end-to-end AI-powered web applications that solve practical problems using Python, machine learning, and modern web technologies. This portfolio is for an AI/ML engineering manager or technical recruiter hiring AI/ML or Software Engineering interns who wants proof that I can turn ideas into working products. After reviewing my projects, I want them to invite me for a technical interview because my portfolio demonstrates that I can design, build, and deploy real AI applications rather than only completing academic coursework.
